Pew Research Center

The number of Americans who do not identify with any religion continues to grow at a rapid pace.

One-fifth of the U.S. public – and a third of adults under 30 – are religiously unaffiliated today, the highest percentages ever in Pew Research Center polling.

A 2023 poll by the Pew Research Center found that 4% of Americans in the United States self-identified as atheists. This is an increase from 3.1% of Americans in 2014. However, in 2014, 9% of Americans agreed with the statement "Do not believe in God." Polling by Gallup in 2022 showed that 17% of respondents replied "No" when asked "Do you believe in God?"

BEYOND a REASONABLE DOUBT

Should a reasonable person believe in God?

- Are there better arguments for God's existence than against it?
- What is the best explanation for the existence, order, and continuance of the universe?

Richard Dawkins

IS IT REASONABLE TO BELIEVE IN GOD

Naturalistic Evolution Is NOT a proven Fact!

“Faith is the great cop-out, the great excuse to evade the need to think and evaluate evidence. Faith is belief in spite of, even perhaps because of, the lack of evidence.”

Richard Dawkins

IS IT REASONABLE TO BELIEVE IN GOD

Naturalistic Evolution Is NOT a proven Fact!

- Faith is not some mystical, unexplainable conviction arrived at without evidence (Isaiah 1:18).
- Faith is a conviction arrived at by examining the evidence and accepting the most reasonable conclusion (Heb 11:1; Rom 1:20; 10:17).

Most Reasonable Cause For The Material Universe?

- Did the universe always exist?
- If the universe had a beginning, then it needs a first cause.

Most Reasonable Cause For The Material Universe?

Did the universe self-cause itself?

- In order to self-cause itself it would have to not exist (to cause existence) and exist (in order to be caused) at the same time.
- Therefore, this option is ruled out because it violates the “Law of non-contradiction.”

Most Reasonable Cause For The Material Universe?

The 1st Law of Thermodynamics

1. Energy can be neither created nor destroyed (conservation of energy).
2. Thus power generation processes and energy sources actually involve conversion of energy from one form to another, rather than creation of energy from nothing. (Einstein's famous equation - $E = MC^2$ - energy (E) is equal to matter (M) times the square of a constant (C).

The 2nd Law of Thermodynamics

1. Heat can never pass spontaneously from a colder to a hotter body.
2. As a result of this fact, natural processes that involve energy transfer must have one direction, and all natural processes are irreversible.
3. Thus the entropy of an isolated system always increases with time. (Entropy is the measure of the disorder or randomness of energy and matter in a system. - Both energy and matter in the Universe are becoming less useful as time goes on.)

Most Reasonable Cause For The Material Universe?

Norman Geisler

“The Second Law of thermodynamics is probably the most powerful piece of legislation in the physical world. It ultimately describes every process we have ever discovered: it is the final Court of Appeal in any dispute relating to action and procedures, whether they are naturally generated or man inspired. It draws the conclusion that in our universe there is an overall reduction in order, a loss of available energy that is measured as an increase in entropy. . .”

“... So the available stock of order is being exhausted. Akin to the dying battery of a flashlight, useful energy is being dissipated into entropy after which none remains for use... For us to live in a universe in which the Second Law of thermodynamics holds, then, it must be a universe that has a starting point, a creation.”

THE LAW OF CAUSE AND EFFECT

- ▶ A healthy, rooted tree does not fall over because a fly flies into it.
- ▶ An encyclopedia is not produced by spilling ink onto a stack of paper.
- ▶ These are not adequate causes. For whatever effects we see, we must present adequate causes.

Most Reasonable Cause For The ORDER of The Universe?

“At first, the absence of a beginning appears to be an advantage to the scientific approach. There are no awkward starting conditions to deduce or explain. But this is an illusion. We still have to explain why the Universe took on particular properties—its rate expansion, density, and so forth— at an infinite time in the past”
